

LAWFUL LARCENY' SCHEME ALLEGED BY POSTAL AGENTS

Six Men Arrested and Five Establishments Raided After Complaints Regarding Credit Transactions.

GOODS ORDERED, NEVER PAID FOR

Federal Statute Against Mail Frauds Invoked—Deals Estimated to Total Half-Million Dollars.

Lawful larceny, by which merchandise might be obtained without paying for it, but also without the hazards of committing robbery, is believed by postoffice inspectors and city detectives to have been the aim in a series of transactions, reaching an estimated total volume of a half-million dollars, which have caused raids on five establishments and the arrest of six men.

While the concerns succeeded in getting goods without paying for them, the plan may prove not so lawful as was supposed. The arrested men are charged with using the mails to defraud.

For the past five months, the postoffice inspectors of the St. Louis office have been receiving complaints against concerns here which have ordered goods and failed to pay for them. About 15 concerns have been the chief subject of complaints. In a few cases, the inspectors have found that the buyers apparently placed their orders in good faith. But in most instances they found reason to believe that the orders were made without any purpose of paying, and they learned that the goods were sold, as soon as possible after being received, for whatever they would bring.

Lawsuits Pending.

Persons engaging in such a plan, the inspectors say, probably thought the wholesale mail jobbing houses would have no recourse except lawsuits. A number of such lawsuits are, in fact, now pending, but the federal statute against mail frauds, which is a broad one, appears to give more effective recourse.

An interesting feature of the matter is the means used for getting credit. The concerns which made the purchase, in most cases, have a previous standing and a fair financial rating in the reports of commercial agencies, but have passed into other hands. When the credit obtained through the ratings did not suffice, use is said to have been made of letters of reference, and one of the arrested men is charged with having written such letters, under another name than his own.

Men thus far arrested, and the establishments with which they are connected, are:

Edward (Red) Allen, 31 years old, 718 South Fourth street, eastern proprietor and bookman, regarded by the police as leader of the remnants of the Cackoo Gang. Arrested in raid on the Soap Products Co., 218 South First street. Released on $7500 bond.

Harold W. Tidwell, 39, 4535 Washington boulevard, chemist, arrested at same place. Associated with Allen in Soap Products Co. and Ludwig Remedy Co., 712 North Second street, another of the establishments raided. Was charged, last February, with unlawful sales of morphine, in connection with an investigation into affairs of the Ludwig Co., made as part of an anti-prohibition ordinance's attack upon the Rex W. C. Shop, then superintendent, Missouri Anti-Saloon League. Released on $7500 bond.

John (Duke) Lynam, 1428 Cass avenue, saloonkeeper. Arrested at Ludwig Co. office. Held in connection with inquiry into letters signed "John Lynam" used by concerns in getting credit. Released on $7500 bond.

John J. Brennan, 1316 Chouteau avenue, arrested at Ludwig Co. office. Released on $7500 bond.

Clay L. Schroeder, 29, 1100 Louisville avenue, arrested in raid on United Auto Supply Co., 715 Pine street. Said to be connected with St. Louis Merchandise Co. and Central Mercantile Co., both located on the second floor, Jefferson Bank Building, Jefferson and Franklin avenues, which concerns were also raided.

Benjamin DeWoskin, 4368 Page boulevard, arrested at home. Said to be connected with St. Louis Merchandise Co.

While the officers were at the Ludwig office, four men arrived in an automobile, and one of them, Joseph Burleson, of 1228 South Eleventh street, was arrested. He was held until noon today, when he was released unconditionally.

30 Take Part in Raids.

The raids and arrests were made yesterday afternoon by a party of 30 postoffice inspectors, Federal Deputy Marshals and city detectives.

COMMANDER OF POLAND'S ARMIES
IN ST. LOUIS

GEN. HALLER OF
POLAND IN CITY
FOR 2-DAY STAY

Address at C. of C. Luncheon, Auto Drive in Afternoon and Banquet in Evening on First Day's Program.

HE IS MAKING TOUR OF AMERICA

He Expresses Belief His Country Soon Will Have Autonomous Government Much Like Ours.

Gen. Joseph Haller, commander of the armies of Poland, who is hailed by his people as a savior because of his campaigns against the bolsheviks, arrived here today for a two-day stay in the course of an American tour designed primarily to cement friendly popular relations between his homeland and this country.

The tour began Oct. 6, included attendance at the American Legion convention at San Francisco and will end about Nov. 15.

The general made a brief address as a Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Chamber dining room today. No formal parade was arranged in his honor, but it was planned to take him for an automobile drive in the afternoon, with stops at Washington and St. Louis universities. In the evening there will be a banquet at the Statler, under auspices of the American Legion, Polish Veterans Association, Military Order of the World War and Reserve Officers Association.

Tomorrow's program includes early mass at the New Cathedral, a visit to Jefferson Barracks, a luncheon address at the City Club, a matinee at the Orpheum Theater and an evening meeting at Polish Hall, 1940 Cass avenue. The general will depart at 8:45 p. m. for Springfield, Ill., where he will lay a wreath on Lincoln's tomb.

Met by Reception Committee.

The general arrived at Union Station in a private car on a delayed train from Kansas City at 8:15 a. m., but did not make his appearance till nearly 10 o'clock. A party of American officers, representing the American Legion, and Polish officers accompanied him. A reception committee headed by Col. Frank G. Jones of the American Legion and several corps officers of Polish nationality greeted him.

First the general paused in the observation compartment of his car to meet newspaper reporters. He entered, silent, with a shy smile, and saluted in the quick, two-finger gesture of his army. He is a sturdy man of medium height, with a strong face, flashing eyes and a close-cut, dark Van Dyke beard. He was in uniform—khaki in color, with four-cornered cap, long, fur-collared greatcoat, high, gilt-crowned, blouse collar and straight, blue-striped trousers.

His bearing was friendly but reminding of the dignity of his position, the equivalent in his country to that of Gen. Pershing here. He spoke a little English, but with a decided accent. Asked in Polish what he wished to tell St. Louisans he smiled, shrugged his shoulders and turned out his hands. However, representatives gave out translated statements of some of his views.

Predicts New Government.

In one of these statements he declared his belief that a new form of autonomous government akin to the American system will be established soon in Poland, now a form of Republic.

"Poland is at present divided into 'wójewodztwa' or so-called semi-states," he said. "At present, there is a movement to grant each of these states a sort of autonomy such as exists in the various commonwealths of the United States. If this self-government is granted, it is not unlikely that the little provinces would be further divided and a form of government similar to the American country instituted."

"Poland has always been more or less independent in government when not under the heel of the despots. The land owners, who felt their responsibility for the peasants on their tracts, used to meet, consider most likely candidates for rulership in a careful manner and elect one as king. This led the nation to have French, Hungarian and Russian rulers, all selected in a democratic manner. I foresee in the eventual adoption of the 'wójewodztwa' an even more general expression of the people."

"Everybody in Poland Working."

The general went on to relate that the political parties of Poland have joined hands for a peaceful development of the country, whose people are not yet entirely accustomed to freedom from a foreign yoke. The present Government, he said, is backed by the working classes, and

LOCOMOTIVE WHISTLE
DISTURBS SLEEPERS WITH LONG BLOW

Siren Sounds for 70 Minutes, Beginning at 3:30 A. M., in Northeastern Part of City.

A shrill, ear-splitting whistle, which pierced the atmosphere in the northeastern section of the city for 70 minutes early today, resulted in newspaper offices, police headquarters and the Angelica Police District in that section getting many telephone calls.

The sleep-disturbing sound began about 3:30. After several minutes, when no respite seemed imminent, befuddled brains began to wonder, and the queries started. A policeman was sent out from Angelica street to see if he could find the trouble. Finally he found it near the intersection of the Terminal tracks and Carrie avenue, in the form of Terminal engine No. 142. The whistle of which had become "stuck" and couldn't be silenced, while he was switched. At the master mechanic's office it was explained that a small spring on the whistle broke and part of it got under the valve, holding the valve open.

At 4:40 mechanics repaired the obstinate siren, the telephone calls ceased, and disgruntled North St. Louis residents sought in an effort to coax back a neglected slumber.

STATE FINALLY OBTAINS
CONVICTION AGAINST 'JELLY ROLL'
HOGAN—MINIMUM
PUNISHMENT FIXED.

RELEASED ON BOND PENDING APPEAL

"I'm Going to Take This Case to Supreme Court if Necessary," He Announces, Defiantly.

The State today, after numerous efforts, finally obtained a conviction against Edward J. (Jelly Roll) Hogan, gang leader and former member of the State Legislature, for carrying concealed weapons. A jury fixed his punishment at 50 days in jail, the minimum.

Immediately upon hearing the verdict, Hogan leaped to his feet, drew from his pocket a two-page motion for a new trial prepared by his attorney for just such an emergency, and handed it to Circuit Judge Falkenhainer.

Then, in a voice heard by persons nearby, he announced, with characteristic vehemence, "I'm going to take this case to the Supreme Court if necessary." A few minutes later Hogan was released on $500 bond, pending decision on his motion.

This jury should be commended on its verdict," Judge Falkenhainer remarked. "Whenever a jail sentence is returned, it is certain to have a good effect on gangsters and make them a little more reluctant about carrying weapons."

Sealed Verdict Returned.

The verdict, a sealed one, was opened in court at 10 a. m. after the jury had reached it following five hours of deliberation yesterday.

Hogan was arrested June 5, 1922, at Sixth and Lucas avenues, in an automobile in which he was carrying four revolvers, but the charge was based on a fifth revolver which he had in his pocket. Three other men, arrested with him, were not indicted.

Hogan's defense was that, as a deputy State beverage inspector, he carried the revolver to protect State money, of which he sometimes carried $2000 or more. The statutes, however, do not give a beverage inspector the right to carry a weapon. He has lately ceased to be a State employee.

Hogan was not permitted to introduce any evidence as to the "shoot-up" of his home, and letters containing threats against his life. The State asked that the maximum punishment for carrying concealed weapons, two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, be imposed.

Hogan was acquitted on Nov. 15 last on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Two revolvers having been found on him, his defense attorneys, yesterday, was that he had them to protect State money. He has been arrested at other times when revolvers were found on the floor of his car. Six other members of the Hogan gang are under indictment on similar charges.

Egan gangsters have had less luck in the courts on such charges. Ray Renard having been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, the maximum punishment, May 22 last, and Harry Londo to three months in the workhouse.

BRITISH SHIPS MAY CARRY LIQUOR UP TO OUR DOCKS

Final Approval by England of Hughes Plan Indicated—Treaty to Allow Spirits to Be Brought In Under Seal.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The final terms which will form the basis for an Anglo-American treaty to cope with rum running along the American coast were formally presented to the imperial conference of British Premiers by Lord Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, this afternoon. Ambassador Harvey and Lord Curzon agreed to terms after an hour's conference in the Foreign Office yesterday.

The terms laid before the conference were:

"First. The United States authorities will have the right to search any British ship within the 12-mile limit suspected of carrying liquor for smuggling purposes.

"Second. The United States will formally affirm by treaty the principle of the three-mile limit for territorial waters.

"Third. British ships will have the right to carry liquor under seal into the territorial waters of the United States."

As the imperial conference is merely a consultative body, not having the power to act on the rum-running question, Lord Curzon's formal presentation of the terms which he discussed with Ambassador Harvey yesterday means final and complete agreement of the British Government with the American request for permission to search British ships within a 12-mile limit.

British and American officials here believe the United States Senate will readily ratify a treaty embodying these terms.

Similar Agreements With Other Powers Planned.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—There is every expectation here that the agreement to curb rum running as worked out in London on the basis of suggestions made by Secretary Hughes, will meet with the approval of the Washington Government and that similar agreements will be made later with the other maritime powers.

As a result of the Anglo-American treaty and the others of a similar character which the administration hopes to have ready for Senate approval at the coming session of Congress, "rum row" along the Atlantic coast is believed certain to disappear or at least to be pushed back to a distance that will make communication with the shore very difficult.

It was stated in Washington yesterday that President Coolidge believed that provision to allow British ships to bring liquor stores within the three-mile limit might be made effective through a treaty without necessity for amendment of the Volstead act. A treaty, ratified by the Senate, always has been regarded as the supreme law of the land.

SECURITIES IS SUSPENDED

State Finance Commissioner Places Examiner in Office of L. G. Jerome & Co.

State Finance Commissioner Mills, after this afternoon announced that he had suspended the permit of L. G. Jerome & Co., 705-6 Title Guaranty Building, to sell securities. He has placed an examiner in the office to look into the business methods of the concern.

The Finance Commissioner would not state his reasons for this action in detail. He is charged with the enforcement of the State blue sky law, regulating sale of securities. The Better Business Bureau recently investigated some transactions of the Jerome concern.

The door of the company's office bears a sign stating that it has offices also in New York and Chicago, and that it deals in Government and municipal bonds, corporation stocks and mortgage bonds.

When Commissioner Mills called at the Jerome office this morning the manager, L. J. Jerome, went out, and returned with Attorney A. Samuel Bender.

TELLS OF 30-HOUR VIGIL IN WRECKED SUBMARINE

One of Two Sailors Who Went Down With O-5 Relates Experiences.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Graphic stories of the experience of two men, locked 30 hours in the wrecked American submarine O-5 on the bottom of the ocean, are told in a copyrighted dispatch from Balboa to the Evening World today.

The story was related by Lawrence J. Breaud, 19, of White Plains, N. Y., a torpedo dispatcher, was the hero of the grim adventure. Brown was warm in praise of the boy and his sentiments were echoed by officers and others of the crew of the O-5. Breaud was on the submarine deck and saw the looming bow of the Abangarez. Instead of jumping to safety in the sea, he hurried himself into a hatchway leading to the torpedo room because he thought "there might be others down there."

He awakened Brown and they closed the door, but not until a foot of water had rushed in as the submarine started to sink.

"We went down in about 30 seconds," Brown said.

"We settled in about 40 feet of water. Forty-five minutes after going down the batteries in the after-compartment exploded and we spent five hot minutes in the hold."

"After we had been there about three hours a diver came alongside. Breaud and I separated, pounding on the boat's sides, so that the rescuers would know there were two of us. Breaud played a kind of a tune with his hammer, indicating to them that we were in good shape and cheerful. We had no food and no water and only the light of a flashlight, but we were confident we could hold out for 48 hours."

"The air pressure gave us violent headaches after 24 hours. We did very little talking or moving about; it excited our heart action too much."

The first boat failed, he explained, after 12 hours.

"A long time afterward," Brown went on, "when we had forgotten time and didn't want to think about it, a second boat started. We went up slowly. It seemed like eternity. The last 20 minutes were terrible. Then we heard our comrades walking on deck. We knew we were at the surface. Breaud opened the hatch and we were saved."

Charles R. Butler, chief machinist's mate, from New Haven, Conn., went down with the boat, but fought his way to the surface through an open hatch.

Reparations Commission, Disregarding Poincare's Wishes, Postpones Hearing of German Delegates and Voices Its Own Right to Interpret Treaty Powers

RARE ASSERTION OF INDEPENDENCE

If Commission Had Gone Ahead, Work of Committee Would Have Been in Large Measure Superfluous—Britain Hopes for Plenary Conference.

By FERDINAND TUOHY.

Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Copyright, 1923, by the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.)

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The proposal inspired by Premier Poincare to grant an immediate hearing to the German delegates who have been waiting for weeks at the door of the Reparations Commission was defeated here yesterday.

The French have been insisting that the commission admit the Germans and take up with them their plans for the financial reorganization of the Reich. If this were done the scope and the importance of the proposed committee of experts would be limited. In fact, if at this time there should be a full inquiry by the Reparations Commission there would remain little for the committee of experts to do.

Pressure was exerted by the English, it is understood. It was, in fact, that Chairman Barthou of the commission persisted in his demand that the committee of the legality of the Ruhr occupation would be brought up, thereby successfully blocking further proceedings.

Sir John Bradbury, British representative on the commission, gave the following version of what happened in the Reparations Commission yesterday:

"The adjournment I requested was on my personal initiative. I understand certain of my colleagues had decided to proceed to hear the Germans irrespective of pending negotiations. After a friendly exchange of views, however, we all agreed it would be better to wait a few days in the hope that an agreement between our Government and the German standing questions might be arrived at."

No Date Fixed for Hearing.

Accordingly, no date has been fixed for hearing the German delegates. It is realized incidentally that the Krupp-Sinnes deals with the French, by which it is rumored 90 per cent of the Ruhr output may come under the control of France, further may modify the situation.

The Quai d'Orsay took it upon itself yesterday to interpret those clauses of the treaty bearing on the powers of the Reparations Commission to appoint subcommittees and to define the scope and duties of the men appointed. This somewhat gratuitous interference with the commission, which has been Government-ridden so frequently in the past, was too much for the members. They adopted unanimously a resolution saying that the commission has not yet had occasion to interpret the clauses in question; that is, that the commission and it alone has the right to make such interpretations and those that emanate from the French Foreign Office.

Show of Independence.

This was the first show of independence that the commission has dared to make in months.

The semi-official Temps discusses the proposed committee of experts under the captions "Where?" "When?" "Who?" "What?"

Answering the first, Le Temps says the committee would assemble at Paris and proceed to Berlin. Answering the second, it suggests that the committee might meet just as soon as the Reparations Commission has heard the German delegates. (This is the order of things that England is trying to defeat.) As to the third, Le Temps says no neutrals would be tolerated on the committee and no personalities calculated to put France and Belgium in the minority. Regarding what the committee should do, Le Temps

SHIPS TRAVELING

Scientist Learns of Variance Due to Difference in Centrifugal Force.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—In the course of experiments to discover the origin of mountains, Prof. W. G. Duffield, who occupies the chair of physics at Reading University, has found that ships traveling east are lighter than when going west. He found that a 2000-ton destroyer was four hundredweight lighter traveling east than when going west, because everything traveling east is going in the same direction as the earth is revolving and the centrifugal force is greater than when it is traveling west.

Therefore, he says, a 50,000-ton Atlantic liner would weigh approximately five tons less on its journey east than when traveling to America.

INQUIRY INTO ALLEGED BRUTAL TREATMENT AT LEAVENWORTH

Order in Case of Soldier, Whose Conviction for Theft Is Upheld by War Department.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—An investigation of charges that William Cunningham, highest ranking non-commissioned officer in the United States Army, had been subjected to brutal treatment at Leavenworth prison, where he is serving a 10-year sentence for alleged theft at Kelly Field, Tex., in 1920, was ordered today by Major General W. A. Belknap, judge advocate-general of the Army.

At the same time, however, Gen. Belknap declared that he already had made an exhaustive investigation of charges that Cunningham's conviction by a military court martial was irregular, and that the War Department believed the former soldier guilty as charged.

Capt. Bolsett told the police that the men had not worked since Oct. 3. The only one of the alleged mutineers who speaks English said the men had received beans three times a day for seven days in succession and wanted meat.

The criers now walk the streets ringing their well-worn bells to attract the attention of the languid population, and then read the latest orders and proclamations emanating from the provisional Government headquarters at Coblenz.

PUSHED UNDER WAGON BY TWO BOYS, LAD SAYS

John Aguayo Asserts They Were Strangers—His Leg Fractured.

John Aguayo, 5 years old, 100 Bremen avenue, critically injured yesterday afternoon when run over by a meat wagon, told police two boys he did not know pushed him from the sidewalk under a rear wheel of the wagon on Bremen near Ninth street. Search is being made for the driver. Another boy told police that Aguayo was riding on the meat wagon and fell off. The injured boy's sister, Anita, 10, who was with him, said she saw two boys push him. He was taken to the city hospital, with a compound fracture of the leg and internal injuries. Leo Chamblin, 32, a probationary patrolman of the motor cycle squad, was knocked from his motor cycle in a collision with an automobile at Union boulevard and Enright avenue and was taken to the city hospital with a fractured skull. Miss Lanka Faucett, 35, of 4244 Delmar boulevard, who was driving the car that hit him, was turning west into Enright. She said she did not see the motor cycle until the crash. She refused treatment for a slight cut. William Worstanholm, 22, of 2906 Caroline street, and Charles Udley, 29, a negro, 2827 Bernard street, suffered skull fractures when a motor cycle with side car in which they were passengers, collided with a Manchester car at Manchester and Knox avenues and was dragged 75 feet. The driver of the motor cycle, William Harvey, a negro, was not seriously injured. Mrs. Rose Powell, 42, of 2245 Lafayette avenue, suffered a fractured skull when, crossing Lafayette at Missouri avenue, she was knocked down by a westbound automobile. Henry Feldman, 52, of 5664 Garfield avenue, suffered back injuries in an automobile collision at Cass avenue and Twelfth street. Nora di Mercurio, 5, of 1209 North Seventh street, was cut about the head and internally injured when knocked down by an automobile on Seventh near her home. The negroes ran out and, Lee said, took a small amount of money. He was not sure of the amount. His injury is not believed to be serious.

Swank, 34 years old, of 5939A Ridge avenue, an electrician and automobile mechanic, died at city hospital at 2:30 p. m. yesterday from a fracture of the skull, suffered at noon in a collision between his motor cycle and a coal truck driven by Ernest Foster, 33, a negro, of Webster Groves.

Foster told police he was driving west on Lawton boulevard. He stopped at Jefferson avenue to let traffic pass. As he started on, the motor cycle, coming from the south, he said, swerved eastward, to the north side of Lawton and collided with the truck.

Aviators Visited San Francisco After Air Races Here and Are On Way Back Home.

First Lieutenants Ford O. Rogers and H. D. Palmer, Marine Corps, took off at 9:20 a. m. today from Scott Field for Dayton on the return lap of their Santo Domingo to California airplane flight, with 5000 miles to go to equal the world's distance record of 11,500.

The Lieutenants, accompanied by their mechanics, Sergeants R. F. Belcher and P. P. Tolusick, visited the international air races on their way to San Francisco by way of Texas. They returned over the air mail route, by way of Salt Lake City and Cheyenne. They had dinner in Omaha last Sunday and dropped in that afternoon at the flying exhibition at Scott Field. Fog yesterday delayed their departure until today. Their planes are white De Havillands, with blue radiators and the golden emblem of the Marine Corps.

If you have frequent headaches, dizzy spells, sour stomach, nervous attacks or are generally run down, the chances are 9 to 1 that you are a victim of auto-intoxication. FINED $100 ON CHARGE OF PRACTICING MEDICINE

Paul de Monte Leone, Whose Astral Self Dwells in Realms of Psychology, Pays Costs.

Paul de Monte Leone, whose earthly body abides at 4117 Washington boulevard, but whose astral self dwells in realms of psychology, appeared in the Court of Criminal Correction today to answer a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

He pleaded guilty, and was fined $100, which was stayed on recommendation of the Prosecuting Attorney's office. Upon payment of costs he was allowed to depart.

The "doctor," as he prefers to be called, was arrested at Hotel Claridge last July after treating two policewomen for "water on the lung." He told them to forget their illness and accepted a marked $5 bill. The Health Department then preferred charges, alleging that Leone had practiced medicine.

Through a combination of circumstances, which Leone asserts he brought about by concentration, Prosecuting Attorney Phillips decided to let the "doctor" off with costs if he would promise to repay the remaining $500 of $500 which a young woman invested in his enterprises. This he said he would do.

BADGES FOR BUS CONDUCTORS

Emblems Worn Here Copied From Those Used in New York.

Metallic badges, with the names of bearers, are appearing on the breasts of conductors of the People's Motorbus Co. today. The badges are about three inches long and an inch high, the men's names being in raised black letters.

They are to facilitate reporting conductors for acts of courtesy or negligence, and are copied from badges used on New York busses.

Keeping Millions Free From Colds and La Grippe

W. H. HILL'S LIFE WORK

Colds cause more illness than any other human ailment. Realizing this 50 years ago, W. H. Hill determined to develop a quick-acting scientifically correct cold and la grippe remedy.

Years of research brought success. Mr. Hill discovered a most remarkable formula. He backed it with energy, faith, integrity and a name that meant "satisfaction or money back."

Today more than 4,000,000 families—one-fifth of America's population—use and recommend Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine.

The formula has never been changed in a quarter century. What Hill has done for millions, it can do for you. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait. All druggists, 50 cents.

DURING epidemics of colds, grippe, influenza, scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, sore throat and other respiratory diseases, Zonite should be used frequently as a throat spray and nasal douche. Zonite is non-poisonous and non-irritating. By standard laboratory tests it has greater germ-killing power than pure carbolic acid. It has more than 75 times the germ-killing power of peroxide and other mouth washes and gargles heretofore in general use.

FIRST WOMAN LORD MAYOR IN ENGLAND NAMED BY NORWICH

Daughter of Late M. P. Selected As Chief Magistrate of Town.
By the Associated Press.
NORWICH, England, Oct. 21.—This city has the honor of naming the first woman Lord Mayor of England. Several small towns have had women Mayors, but no city aspiring to the importance of being governed by a Lord Mayor has hitherto chosen a woman for the post.

The dignity now has been bestowed upon Miss Ethel Colman, daughter of the late J. J. Colman, M. P., a member of a mustard-making firm. The city authorities further surprised male office seekers by appointing Miss MacGregor to the town clerkship, an office usually given to a local lawyer. Miss MacGregor was chosen over many male applicants.

Identified as Hold-up Man.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21.—A man giving his name as George Cummings, 35 years old, was arrested yesterday and identified as one of the two robbers who held up two employees of the Diamond Jewelry Co. last Wednesday and took $40,000 in jewelry. The man was identified by Max Binkowitz, manager of the store, and Mrs. Sam Diamond, wife of the proprietor.

"I never worry about how my cake will turn out—I use Enterprise."

"What of it if the hard wheat crop is 120,000,000 bushels smaller than last year's? And not enough good strong wheat to go around? That won't affect my baking, for I use Enterprise, the flour that's always the same. The makers of Enterprise are going to special efforts and paying special premiums to get the same very highest grade of wheat they always insist on. And they are continuing to make Enterprise entirely out of the choicest part of the kernel—its very heart.

"Enterprise rises better, gives more flavor to bread, cakes or pastry and goes farther too. Eight cups or less will do the work of nine. It even saves money in the long run, especially when you consider the baking failures it saves you. Why don't you get a sack of Enterprise today?"

TURN HAIR DARK
WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It
Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The oldtime mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wash's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wash's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides gradually darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

OKLAHOMA BANKER ACQUITTED

Was Accused of Accepting Deposits in Insolvent Institution.

By the Associated Press.
OKMULGEE, Ok., Oct. 21.—John H. Rebold, former vice president of the defunct Bank of Commerce, was acquitted in District Court here yesterday on one of four charges of accepting deposits in an insolvent bank. The court sustained a demurrer to State's evidence and instructed a verdict of not guilty.

Former Gov. Robertson, former State Bank Commissioner Dennis and 13 local business men and bankers were indicted with Rebold more than a year ago in connection with the bank's collapse. The former Governor was charged jointly with Dennis with accepting a bribe to permit operation of another bank here which was absorbed by the Bank of Commerce and which was sold by the prosecution to have contributed to the failure of the latter institution because of its insolvent condition at the time of the merger. The case of the former executive was dismissed when his demurrer to the indictment was sustained.

Stone Tossed by Boy With Sling,
Witness Believes.

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 21.—The injury of Princess Hermine's ear, caused by a stone that struck her while she was walking near Doorn Castle, is painful but not serious. The culprit has not been found but an eye-witness of the incident believes that the stone was accidentally tossed from a sling with which he saw a boy playing.

The Doorn authorities refuse to discuss the affair.

Fire at State Penitentiary.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 21.—Fire yesterday in the twine plant at the Missouri State penitentiary caused $1000 damage, according to estimates by the prison authorities. A broken light bulb was responsible, according to the officials, who said that when the bulb was shattered the wires ignited some lint, which set fire to a quantity of sisal used in making the twine.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder Is Troubling You.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MARY SNYDER NOT ACCURATE IN STORY OF HER PAST LIFE

Woman Caught Here With Bag of Counterfeit $10 Bills Unknown at New York Address She Gave.

Mary Snyder, circulator of counterfeit $10 bills, who was arrested Monday afternoon, was inaccurate in the information she gave the police and secret service men about her past life. She told them her home was at 472 Eighth avenue, New York, and that, before she found a bag of $10 bills in a subway she had been working at a Bronx laundry.

New York officers who called at the Eighth avenue address and at the laundry did not find anybody who knew Mary Snyder. No additional information has been obtained about her.

Think Bills Came From Chicago.

There is a growing impression that the woman was also inaccurate in telling about how she found the bills in the subway car. The Secret Service men have good reason to think that the bills came from Chicago. It may be that, her memory being poor, she got the Bronx confused with one of the aliases of Joseph W. Brown, who was arrested Monday in St. Paul, Minn. He is known also as F. C. Brown and F. C. Bronson. He was passing the same kind of bills.

So far as the Secret Service officials have learned, the spurious bills have been passed so far only in St. Louis and East St. Louis and St. Paul, indicating that the bill is a recent product and was just being placed in circulation when the woman and man were arrested.

Brown passed one of the bills in buying a railroad ticket at Minneapolis. The ticket man soon discovered that it was a bad bill and by quick work Brown was arrested on a train at St. Paul. Brown and other members of a supposed counterfeit gang are said to have left Chicago last Sunday.

Silent on Inaccuracies.

Mary Snyder, or whoever she is, refused today to explain her New York inaccuracies or give any further information about herself. She still calls the counterfeiters her mistake and says she is ready to "take her medicine."

She was arraigned yesterday afternoon before a United States Commissioner on charges of counterfeiting, passing counterfeit currency and having counterfeit currency in her possession. Her bond was fixed at $10,000. When the commissioner asked her if she thought she could give the bond she said: "Go ahead and give me all the punishment you please. I'm ready."

The $10 bills which the woman passed by making small purchases at various stores are continuing to come in.

MARY PICKFORD AND HUSBAND WILL SUE FILM MAGAZINE

Publication of Rumor That Evelyn Brent Had Caused an Estrangement Ridiculously Untrue.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—A court fight to put a stop to alleged malicious and unfounded stories about men and women in the motion picture world is expected as a result of instructions which Mary Pickford and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, announce they have telegraphed to attorneys in New York.

Their attorneys, they said, were ordered to begin suit immediately against a film magazine, which is alleged to have published a report that Evelyn Brent, Fairbanks' former leading lady, had caused the estrangement of Miss Pickford and her husband.

Miss Brent joined with Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks in denouncing the articles as "ridiculously untrue" and her husband, B. P. Fineman, confirmed the Fairbanks' announcement that she would join with them in bringing the suit.

Referring to "supposed rumors that a separation from Fairbanks was imminent," Miss Pickford cited the fact that her husband "follows along wherever I go on location, even if he has to stop work on his own picture."

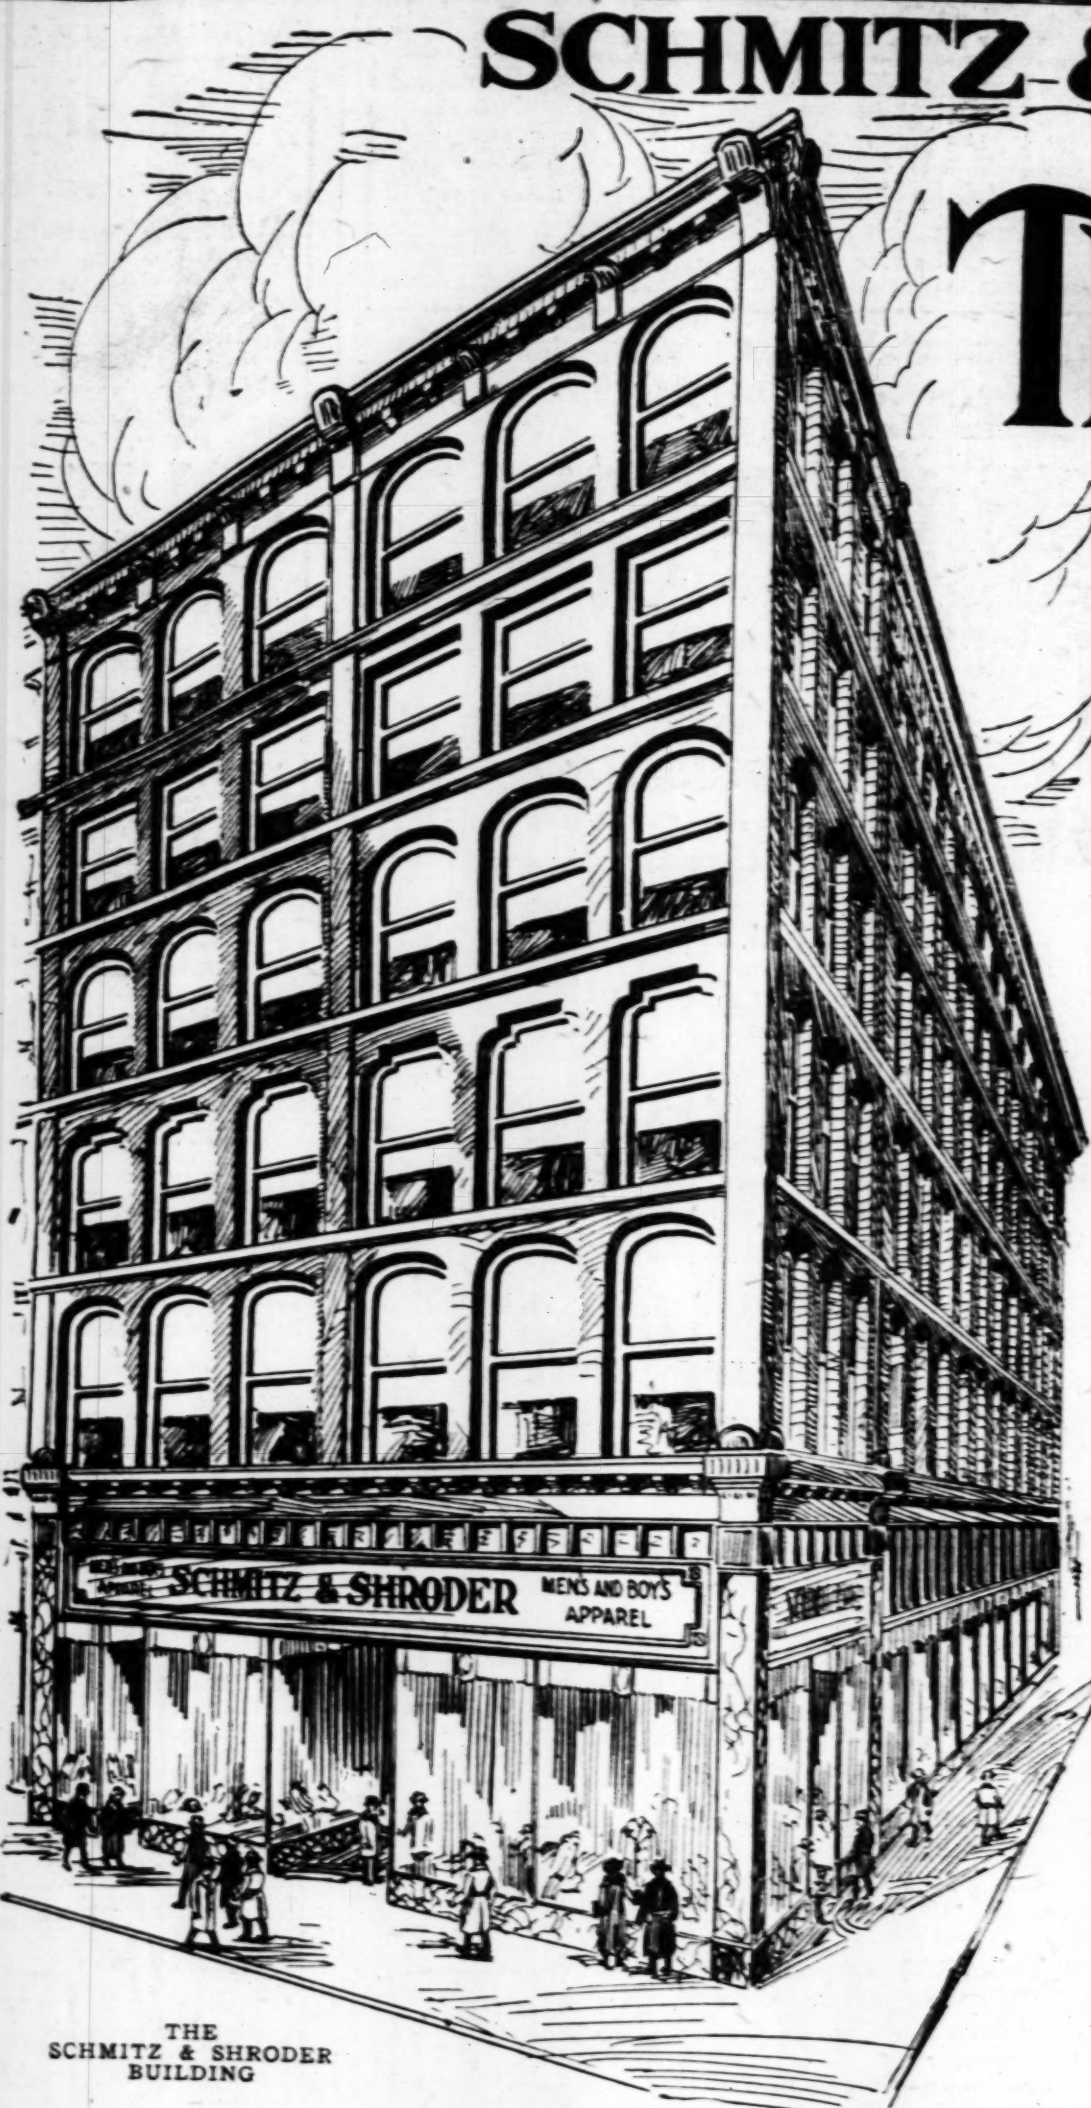

"The malicious stories that Miss Brent caused difficulties between myself and Mr. Fairbanks are extremely unfair to her," Miss Pickford said. "I think she is a beautiful girl and I love to see beautiful women in Mr. Fairbanks' pictures. They are like flowers and other beautiful things. I helped select Miss Brent for the picture in which she appeared with my husband; I am always looking over chorus girls and women for him."

The report that Miss Brent was a source of trouble between herself and her husband, Miss Pickford branded as "an unjust story."

MUNICIPAL JUDGE ON TRIAL

Charged With Leaving Scene After His Auto Killed Girl.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21.—Edward J. Fleming, Judge of the South Side Municipal Court, went to trial in Circuit Court here yesterday on a charge of leaving the scene of a motor car accident last June in which Miss Elizabeth Dugan was killed. Nelson E. Johnson, trial judge, overruled a motion for the defense to quash the indictment.

SCHMITZ & SHRODER

The Third of a Century

It is with pleasure we announce the completion of our extensive alterations, made not only to accommodate our constantly increasing patronage, but also to keep pace with the broadly recognized importance of Washington avenue as the great shopping thoroughfare of St. Louis.

For thirty-three and a third years this store has furnished men and boys with honest apparel and we freely acknowledge our growth and prosperity to be due to the loyal appreciation by our customers of our efforts thus to serve their wants reliably and dependably.

Our customers and the public generally are invited tomorrow to inspect the new store. Comparative prices are not used, as the confidence established in our representations over these many years is your assurance that the values priced for this occasion are almost unbelievable.

With the exception of the comparatively small space occupied by our general offices, the entire Second Floor is devoted to men's and young men's clothing. The broad aisles and ample room between cases and tables, with the commodious dressing rooms and numerous mirrors, bespeak much convenience and comfort in making selections.

DOERING MAKING BOND, WEISMAN TO BE COMMITTED

Additional Surety Produced by Man Under Sentence of 30 Years for Daring Mail Truck Robbery.

Federal Judge Faris, who yesterday refused to accept a group of professional bondsmen on the $50,000 appeal bond of William F. (Whitey) Doering, Egan gangster, recently sentenced to serve 30 years in the Atlanta (Ga.) federal penitentiary, for participation in a daring downtown mail truck robbery, today accepted additional sureties. In refusing to accept the professionals offered yesterday, Judge Faris denounced the tactics of professional bondsmen.

Doering's bond probably will be signed by tomorrow. No steps having been taken to arrange $75,000 bond for David Weisman, vent associate of Doering and convicted with him, Judge Faris ordered him committed to the Atlanta Prison to serve his 25-year sentence.

C. L. Geraghty Accepted. Charles L. Geraghty, an undertaker of 4821 Easton avenue, who also frequently signs bonds, was the bondsman produced today by Doering's attorneys. He qualified for $50,000, saying that he had additional property, but did not care to include it on this bond. He was informed that if other sureties failed to pay in case the bond should be forfeited he would be liable for the full amount. He said he understood Tom Kearney, professional bookmaker, had agreed to deposit Liberty bonds to the amount of $30,000.

Judge Faris then directed that Geraghty be accepted, that Kearney deposit the Liberty bonds and that the bond also be signed by the professional bondsmen offered yesterday. Nine sureties originally offered for Doering's bond had been examined by United States Commissioner Atkins and they informed him that their combined real estate holdings had an assessed valuation of $125,000, but the total of bonds on which seven of them now are sureties is $248,200.

Surety of Four Refused. Included in these seven bondsmen were four professionals, whose surety for Doering was refused yesterday by the Judge. They are Frank B. Paxia, Henry Henning, Jack Nieman and John Keegan. It was shown that their combined real estate holdings are valued at $60,000, but they now owe on bonds totaling $223,200. The Judge refused to accept their surety because their existing bonds are so greatly in excess of value of their property.

One other proffered bondsman for Doering, John T. Lyman, a druggist, was rejected by the Court. Other sureties offered, who were not rejected by the Court, were Michael J. Whalen, Democratic politician; William J. Whalen, brother of Michael; and John J. (Spot) Regan, saloon keeper and taxicab owner, and Kearney.

Judge Faris asked counsel for Doering whether they had figured what percentage of bonds are paid after forfeiture, and added his own belief that not more than one out of 50 forfeited bonds are paid. "I have something of a distaste for professional bondsmen," the Judge declared, to which counsel answered that many bondsmen went on bonds out of friendship for defendants.

Concerning Professional Bondsmen. "Certainly it cannot be said that Paxia, for instance, has so many friends among the criminal element that he has signed more than $100,000 in bonds," the Judge countered. "You have had to make this bond up of chips and whetstones. I've had some experience in chips and whetstones. Men don't run into court to pay bond forfeitures till they are forced to it."

The bony fingers of death are reaching out for the sureties before collection is made in many cases and sometimes death has taken them. They don't pay till they have exhausted every subterfuge. As for professional bondsmen, they either have too many bonds to make them good sureties or they have too many friends among the criminal element to recommend them to the court."

FARIS AGAIN DISMISSES DRY CASE, DUE TO AGENT'S ERRORS

Omission of Word "Bribe" in Search Warrant Causes Release of Alleged Violator.

For the second time in two days Federal Judge Faris today sustained a motion to destroy evidence obtained by Federal prohibition officers and used in prosecution of an alleged violation, because of errors in the search warrant used.

In applying for a warrant to search the place operated by Ernest Schlueter of 2323 South Grand boulevard, the officers described the building as a "three-story brick building." The clerk who made out the warrant described it as a "three-story building."

Yesterday Judge Faris dismissed the case against Michael O'Donnell of 1211 St. Charles street because prohibition agents spelled his name incorrectly. The Judge has explained in both cases that if specific names and addresses and descriptions are given they must be correct.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the harmful effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 50c.

Wonderful for Piles Says Peterson

If you received every week a dozen or more letters like the ones below from people who have suffered torments from piles, wouldn't you feel happier than the mad who life is devoted to money grabbing? "Gentlemen—I have been suffering with a hemorrhoid for the past twenty years. During that time I have tried numerous remedies, all of which have failed. Two months ago I determined to give Peterson's Ointment a trial. The improvement was so decided after using one box that I am confident, and on the completion of the fifth box am now entirely cured. "This is written with the view of passing along the good work to other sufferers from this truly painful ailment. Here is another testimonial. I am Thomas, age 76, of Hemlock, N. Y. He writes: "I had the itching piles, also high blood pressure. I saw Peterson's ad in the paper. I used one box and a half of Peterson's Ointment for itching piles and the piles disappeared, also the high blood pressure." 35 cents a box at all druggists.

EMPLOYEES TO DIRECT BUSINESS 4 MONTHS AND SHARE PROFITS

Chicago Auto Sales Agency Head Tries Experiment and Doesn't Expect to Lose, He Says.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Glenn F. Holmes, head of an automobile sales agency here, is in his office today, but he is not the boss. Instead, a committee of his 115 employees, to whom he turned over the business last night, will direct the agency for the next four months and the employees will divide the profits up to March 1, 1934. Similar action will be taken at his Milwaukee office, he said.

"This is a business experiment and I do not expect to lose," Holmes said. "My employees, who usually get Christmas bonuses totaling $8000 to $10,000, should be able to divide this year between $15,000 and $20,000 from the four months' business, which, I believe, they will permanently 'pep up.' All employees, from the janitor up, will share."

PENALTIES FOR TAX EVASION

Internal Revenue Order Aimed at Improper Sales Tax Returns.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Commissioner Blair today issued an order to Collectors of Internal Revenue to invoke penalties hereafter in all cases of improper returns of sales taxes by merchants. The instructions affect every mercantile establishment selling taxable articles and are regarded here as another step in the program of the bureau to bring about a more rigid enforcement of all items of the tax laws, many of which admittedly were given little attention in the press of work during and after the war.

Officials said that many firms had been returning to the Treasury sums that appeared ample as the taxes taken in by them, but there were countless cases of laxity in following the law regarding filing returns, according to the collectors. Blair's order declared this laxity must cease and the bureau's agents were instructed to make examinations of firms' books in all suspected cases.

U. S. Sailors Arrested in Turkey.

By the Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 21.—Three American sailors were arrested yesterday by the Turkish police for wearing their navy uniform ashore after 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Sailors attached to foreign warships in the Bosphorus are not permitted on the streets of Constantinople at night except in civilian clothes.

WILL NOT APPOINT LAWYERS IN DRY CASES

Announces New Policy in Dealing With Defendants Arrested on Liquor Charges.

When Judge Paris announced his decision to appoint lawyers for defendants charged with violations of the Volstead act, the first case on the docket today immediately indicated the judge's new idea. Jacob Schmidt, arrested May 28 for having liquor on the premises of his soft drink place, 2029 Broadway, was the defendant. "Have you a lawyer?" demanded Judge Paris. "No, sir," replied Schmidt. "Well, you'll need one before this is over," announced the Court sternly.

Schmidt did a little fast, furious sober thinking. Then he said: "I'll plead guilty, your Honor, if you please." "That's all right," said the judge. "You may also pay a fine of $100." "That's all right," said Schmidt. "That being the case," said the judge, "the Court will take upon itself the responsibility of advising you as to your future actions. We advise that you discontinue the practice of wearing socks so that you may hereafter be free from the obligation of concealing whisky in your pockets." "You may also pay a fine of $100," said the judge.

Charles E. Smith came next. He was fortunate than the others. He was tried and convicted of having liquor in possession. Whereupon his counsel asked the Court for a stay of execution of one day that Smith might raise the money. "I will give you exactly one hour to raise $500," the Court replied. Smith hastened out the door to raise his fine.

GOMPERS, VISITING
ST. LOUIS, URGES
COMPENSATION ACT

A. F. of L. President Advocates for Missouri Statute Modeled After That Passed in Ohio.

SAYS BRITISH LABOR
DALLIES WITH FALLACY

Doles Put Premium on Unemployment, He Declares—Plans Campaign for Child Labor Amendment.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, accompanied by two secretaries and several labor leaders prominent in national and international labor affairs, was a guest for four hours this morning at St. Louis labor officials. He was en route to Washington, D. C., from Portland, Ore., where the national convention was held recently, and coming directly from El Paso, Tex., the meeting place of next year's convention. His visit was made the occasion of an informal gathering at Central Trades and Labor Union headquarters, 2221 Olive street, at which he discussed at length various issues affecting the labor movement. Of chief interest to his audience of labor officials, representatives of the labor press and newspapermen was his declaration that Missouri labor should support a workmen's compensation act modeled on the Ohio law. He expressed gratification when informed by George B. Patterson, secretary of the Missouri Federation of Labor, that agreement had been reached between the labor union and a measure drawn for presentation to the next Legislature. Fight on Child Labor. Gompers also said American union labor would now concentrate on a campaign for passage of an amendment to the United States Constitution empowering Congress to pass legislation, with the aid of the states, to abolish child labor. Two Supreme Court decisions have declared unconstitutional laws passed by Congress in the past, he said, and only by amending the basic law can a remedy be found. "Child life in this great, rich America of ours must be protected," he declared. "American labor can contribute itself in no greater measure. I urge you to impress upon your people the need of impressing upon your lawmakers, both state and national, to speed up this legislation."

The Portland convention was the most important since the founding of the American Federation of Labor in 1881, asserted Gompers. "It served notice to the world," he said, "that American labor will improve the economic conditions of the American worker through the orderly processes of our republic. There were a handful, but only a handful, of soviet representatives in our ranks, and the answer to them was a decision to maintain the unity and identity of the American labor movement according to its traditions, a decision so clearcut and incisive that it needs no added comment. Condemns British Labor. Gompers, who was born in London, was asked to comment on the English labor movement. His reply was emphatically that it was based on an economic and practical fallacy as it put a premium on unemployment. The Government does to the unemployed worker did not at all hinder the improvement of the worker will be brought about by increased production in which the worker will share. Continuing his discussion of foreign labor affairs, Gompers turned to Mexico, saying that plans had been completed for holding the annual convention of the Mexican Federation of Labor at Juarez, across the border from El Paso, concurrent with the American convention. Each convention will be held. He stated that this would go far toward meeting friendship between the two countries. The Mexican labor union movement owes its origin to the Mexican revolution, which commenced the Mexican people. While revolutions occurred during the 11-year period of revolution, the movement has survived and is on a firm footing, Gompers said. Accompanying Gompers were Samuel Ignacia, president of the Porto Rico Federation of Labor and member of the Porto Rico Senate; John E. Giles, representing the Washington Central Labor Council; Thomas J. McGuire, representing the Government plain press; and Chester M. Wright, English labor secretary of the Pan-American Federation of Labor. They were met at Union Station by a committee consisting of Dr. Murphy and David Kreyling, president and secretary respectively of the St. Louis Central Trades and Labor Union. A. M. Lawrence of the County of the Firemen's organization, and Patterson. The visitors departed on a noon train for Washington.

MUSEUM BUYS PAINTING BY SAVAGE

Expulsion' Portrays Artist's
Conception of Adam and Eve
Leaving Garden of Eden.

"Expulsion," one of the 100 paintings by American artists in the exhibition at the City Art Museum, has been purchased for the permanent collection of the museum.

The painting, in oil on canvas, is the work of Ossip Zadkine, N. Y. artist, who painted it in 1911. It was awarded the National Academy of Art medal in 1912, and has been exhibited in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington, D. C., Dec. 19.

The painting was reproduced in the "Expulsion" section of the Post-Dispatch, Sept. 15. The canvas is 46 by 32 inches and required a special frame. It is contained in a specially designed by Savage to protect its mural qualities.

"Expulsion" received the approval of artists and art collectors during the exhibition, said adding there was no other painting of similar character in the museum. The purchase price was $1,000.

Invitations were received yesterday for a luncheon to be given Saturday, Nov. 10, by Miss Charlotte Tellman, of the Jefferson Hotel, in honor of Miss Corinne Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Wagner, of the Branscome Hotel. The party will be given at the Jefferson.

The party is to be given in the "Colonial" room of Hotel Chase, and decorations will be in the traditional Halloween colors.

The following guests were present at Mrs. Ward Smith's bridge and luncheon, 5222 Savoy court, for her sister, Miss Elizabeth Martin of Johnson City, Tenn.: Miss Gladys Long and Misses Harry C. Fifty paintings from the collection of 84 paintings and 269 bronzes, porcelains and similar objects of the late Charles Parsons will be on exhibition beginning tomorrow, at City Art Museum in Forest Park. Custody of the Parsons collection has been given the university by Washington University, which received it under the will of Parsons. The collection, which is worth at least $200,000, had been in the keeping of the late Charles Parsons, nephew of Parsons, during his lifetime. RETURNS FOR VISIT as bridesmaid, and William Warren is to be best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimbrough Peck of Hempstead, L. I., and their small daughters will arrive in St. Louis tomorrow, Nov. 10, by the "Steadfast" at the Ambassador Theater. It is a somber play of Jewish home life and Jewish religious faith.

The portrait which Frank McGlynn, who once acted so superbly the role of Abraham Lincoln in the Drinkwater drama, draws of Rabbi Nathan Judah is really fine. A scene in the third act, in which the bereaved, heartbroken Rabbi appeals to his son to undo the mystery of his daughter's suicide, is done with fine effect. In the beginning, there is the picture of the contented family, but almost immediately a cloud of evil settles upon it. First, it is the surgeon's announcement that he intends marrying outside the faith, and later the betrayal of the daughter by a son of Judah's oldest friend.

In bewilderment the pitiable old man, stanchily holding by the traditions of his creed, yet bravely searching for a means whereby he may justify each of his children's sins, tramps onward to the end.

BONAR LAW TO BE BURIED IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY MONDAY

King George Telegraphs Message of Sympathy to Family of Former Premier.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Andrew Bonar Law, former Prime Minister, will be buried at Westminster Abbey at noon next Monday.

Like Gen. Grant and the German Emperor Frederick III, he died from cancer of the throat. There was a parallel between his last days and those of Frederick III in that both came into brief power with the sentence of death pronounced upon them. The last phase and deciding factor of Bonar Law's illness was an attack of pneumonia, which his enfeebled frame had not the vitality to resist.

Major-General Sir Frederick Skyes, Law's son-in-law, was summoned to Buckingham Palace yesterday, when the King and Queen expressed their condolences.

The King also telegraphed the following message to Bonar Law's family:

"The Queen and I sympathize with you and your family in the death of your dear father. We have equally felt for you during the past few days of his illness. I always found Mr. Bonar Law a wise and capable counselor and a steadfast friend, and throughout my relations with him as a Minister of the Crown, and finally, as Prime Minister, I recognized that integrity, patriotism and single-heartedness which gained for him the confidence and respect of his fellows both at home and abroad."

Daylite Attachment

This exclusive attachment changes your light into soft, eye-saving daylite. The daylite attachment is a simple, effective device that can be attached to any lamp. It is made of a special material that filters out the harsh rays of the sun and replaces them with a soft, even light that is easy on the eyes. It is a must-have for anyone who spends a lot of time reading or working at a desk.

This chair-side lamp, another member of the famous family of daylite lamps, is ideal for reading and many other uses. Its adjustable shade is adjustable from 25° to 55° shade in any angle. Cord enters at base.

Nothing is more decorative to the home than artistic lighting fixtures. When selecting a lamp for reading, sewing or working, however, the eyes should have first consideration.

Eyes are priceless and deserve protection rather than abuse. They behave better and last longer when working with a light that suits them.

Daylite is best because Nature made it right for eyes. That is why every Emeraldite has a special screen which changes ordinary electric light into soft, eye-saving daylite.

Emeraldites are kind to the eyes—good looking, too. Every home needs one or more of these practical eye-pleasing, light-saving lamps.

Genuine Emeraldites are branded and have the Daylite Screen. Look for the trade-mark. It is your guarantee of satisfaction.

Sold by department stores, office supply and electrical dealers. Write for illustrated booklet showing over 50 designs of Emeraldites for every reading and writing need.

FIVE YEARS FOR HOLDUP FOUR YEARS BEFORE HIS ARREST

George Smith, 27, Sentenced After Pleading Guilty of Robbing Jewelry Store in 1919.

Arrested, brought to court, and convicted four years after he held up the jewelry store of Walter H. Goss, 2166 West Florissant avenue, George Smith, 27 years old, of 4943 Claxton avenue, was sentenced today to five years in the penitentiary by Judge Grimm in the Circuit Court.

Smith's capture and conviction was made possible by his desire to return to St. Louis, his native city, after he had succeeded in keeping himself away for four years. He confessed and pleaded guilty. On Oct. 24, 1919, Smith and two companions entered the Goss store, flourished revolvers and escaped with more than $2000 worth of jewelry and $50 in cash. In his confession Smith named one of his companions as Joseph Henry, who was sentenced last summer to 45 years in the penitentiary for numerous robberies. Henry was recently released because of his health and died. Immediately after the robbery, Smith said, he joined the merchant marine and had been on board ship most of the time. When he returned last June he was identified and arrested.

FUNERAL OF WIFE OF "BALDY" RYAN HELD HERE

Husband of Dead Woman Operated Race Betting Enterprises in St. Louis 20 Years Ago.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna V. Ryan, who died suddenly at Downingtown, Pa., Saturday, was held today from the New Cathedral. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. Ryan was the wife of John J. ("Baldy") Ryan, of New Orleans and Cincinnati, who 20 years ago operated racing handbooks and get-rich-quick enterprises in St. Louis, out of which he was said to have made a fortune. Ryan arrived in St. Louis Monday to attend the funeral. This is his second visit here since his departure 20 years ago for Cincinnati to open a race track. He steamed up the Mississippi two years ago in his yacht, "Kalelah," announcing that he would establish a barge line between St. Louis and New Orleans. After several weeks of negotiations he steamed away again and the barge line never materialized.

Besides her husband Mrs. Ryan is survived by two daughters, Marie H. Ryan and Mrs. George Weinbrenner Jr., and a sister, Mrs. John F. McInerney.

TESTIFIES HUSBAND CUT OFF TIP OF HER NOSE, GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Grace Hendricks, Nurse, Mentions the Incident as Chief of Several Alleged Indignities.

Mrs. Grace Hendricks, in obtaining a divorce from William Hendricks in Judge Owsing's court today, related that on March 31, 1922, he cut off the tip of her nose. This was the chief of several indignities alleged by her. She said the injury was inflicted at the husband's home in Venice, Ill. She is a nurse, and lives at 1542 Desrehan street, St. Louis, with her two children.

Her nose shows no noticeable disfigurement, but she explained this by saying that skin and a bit of flesh were grafted from one of her arms, and displayed a scar on the arm. Hendricks presented no defense in the case.

eral principles of law recognized by civilized nations; but these provisions do not prevent the court from deciding a case ex aequo et bono (right and justice) if the parties agree to it.

Advisory Opinions by Court. "Eighth, in addition to its work of deciding judicially with disputes between states, the court is also prepared to render 'advisory opinions' upon any question submitted in writing by the Council or the Assembly of the League of Nations.

"The Permanent Court of International Justice should not be confused with the Permanent Court of Arbitration. This latter was established as a result of the first Hague peace conference in 1899 and still exists. It is merely a panel of about 150 men, scattered all over the world, nominated by the various countries as men suitable for service on committees or boards of arbitration when they may be needed. They never meet as a body.

"The 'Court of Justice' does not supersede the 'Court of Arbitration' but is established, as its charter expressly declares, 'in addition to the other tribunals,' in order to carry one step further the 'pacific settlement of international disputes.'"

EFFORT TO STAVE OFF BANK CRASH DESCRIBED

Officers of Wood River Institution Put Up $51,000 Without Adequate Security.

The fact that officers and directors of the First State and Savings Bank of Wood River, three of whom are on trial at Edwardsville charged with embezzlement in connection with the bank's failure, subscribed $51,000 without adequate security in an effort to stave off the crash, was brought out during testimony yesterday.

This assistance was given the bank during the first week of November last, when a depleted cash reserve and frozen assets prophesied the ultimate closing, which came Nov. 17, Joseph Sivka, an assistant to the receiver, testified.

Counsel for Harry Clark, former president; Stowell Beach, former chairman of the board of directors, and Irwin C. Hatridge, the former cashier, sought to show by this evidence that they believed the bank was sound, when a deposit of $294 was accepted on Oct. 31. The statement was obtained from Sivka during cross-examination as he was State's witness.

W. F. Loelike, cashier of the Alton Banking & Trust Co., testified he turned back a check drawn on his bank for $10,000 by Cashier Hatridge, who was to have been paid to the Wood River bank, but its account was exhausted, Loelike said.

The prosecution introduced more testimony of bank examiners as to condition of the bank before Oct. 31, and also as to conferences in Alton at which Wood River men attempted to obtain loans. William R. Rodenberger, attached to the office of the State Auditor at Springfield, was the last of these witnesses yesterday. It was the apparent desire of the prosecution to present through him a description of the bank's affairs prior to Oct. 31, but he was withdrawn after he stated that he had taken charge after that date.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—Suit to foreclose a mortgage which it holds on a 740-acre farm owned by Gov. Warren T. McCray in Morgan and Johnson counties in Indiana has been filed in the Johnson Circuit Court by the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Co. of Louisville. It is set forth in the suit that the company holds a first mortgage of $100,000 and a second mortgage of $25,000, both made by the Governor.

Complaint Against Solicitors.

Joseph Kohn of the Lang-Kohn Dress Co., Fourteenth and Locust streets, has complained to detectives that solicitors called on him Oct. 15 and accepted $1 each from him and 18 employees of the concern as subscriptions to an anti-Ku-Klux paper, which, the solicitors represented, was being published in the East. He has not received the publication, neither has he been able to find where the paper is supposed to be circulated or printed.

Make a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Better Than Ready-Made Cough Syrup and Saves About $2. Easily and Quickly Prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using plain granulated sugar syrup, diluted molasses, honey or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a cough syrup of really better quality than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

The Pinex and Syrup preparation is right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome an ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give complete satisfaction or money promptly refunded. Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you get it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid (shampoo); apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, if not all of your dandruff will be gone and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and you can feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arsenic at any drug store and it never fails to do the work.

VALUE OF COMMUNITY FUND POINTED OUT

W. Frank Carter Discusses Its Service in View of Coming Annual Campaign.

The Community Fund as a means of service both to the needy recipients of help and to the givers who bestow the help, was discussed by W. Frank Carter, lately general chairman of the fund, in an interview given to the Post-Dispatch in view of the approach of the fund's second annual campaign, to begin Dec. 1.

"Forty charitable and philanthropic agencies were financed through the fund in the year now closing, and 51 such agencies will make their appeal through the fund in the coming campaign.

"The factors in the service rendered by the fund," Chairman Carter said, "are competent budgeting, continual ascertainment of social facts, continual interpretation of these facts, effective campaigning, economical campaigning and administration, clean-cut collection methods, efficient accounting and billing, and adequate supplementary service to the agencies.

"Thorough and Competent.

"The Community Fund has done a thorough and competent piece of work in handling the budgets of its member organizations. There was thorough analysis of the income and expenditures of the agencies over previous years, and of the figures of their services rendered, compared with the proposals for the year ahead. There was a careful relationship of the practice and program of each agency with the works of other agencies and with the needs of the community, as shown not by opinion, but by facts. There also was a careful adjustment of the total budget asked for to the giving power of the community.

"Budgets were and will continue to be handled by a socially-minded committee which will be moved not merely by business sense but by social and community considerations. Budgets must be flexible, capable of adjustment during the year, according to the fluctuating needs of the community, and to the emergencies which are always coming to organizations. Such budgeting has built confidence.

"Continual ascertainment of social facts is a necessity of the Community Fund. This must be done both through the collection of all observable statistics, such as deaths, births, diseases, and so on, and also through special surveys of social conditions and of the work of social agencies. Fact-finding and fact-recording always will be a definite function of a fund.

"Interpretation of Facts.

"But facts are of no value unless they are put into conscious use by those persons on whom the success of the fund depends. First, there must be an internal interpretation of facts to board members and executives of the agencies in the Community Fund, to the fund board itself, and to the campaign workers, so that they may effectively and intelligently prosecute the activities for which they are responsible, and this interpretation of facts must be external, to the general public, so that the maximum co-operation in the attainment of the purposes of the fund may be given by the whole community.

"This interpretation must be carried on through newspapers, through exhibits of various sorts, through graphic presentation in lantern slides and moving pictures, through a speakers' bureau and public meetings, and through printed matter distributed through the mail and in other ways. An effective interpretative program gives understanding of the purposes of the fund and of the problems it faces, and helps to build confidence.

"No Flubdub, No Frills.

"The Community Fund is so organized that it will attain the greatest results at the lowest cost. It is stripped of flubdub and frills. No activity is engaged in unless it can justify itself on the basis of sound and effective service.

"A necessary factor in confidence-building service is a clean-cut collection method. When people have promised to contribute, they must be persuaded to live up to that promise to the fullest possible degree. There is no reason at all why the fund should not have as low a percentage of bad debts as the average department store, say somewhere around 3 per cent. This means that the collection method must be continually animated by the 'selling' and 'good will-building' idea. It must be firm, persistent and yet marked with courtesy. It must make allowance for those who cannot pay; but be unfaltering in its pursuit of those who promise easily but who do not pay up readily.

"Next in these service qualifications for the Community Fund is efficient and errorless accounting and billing. Contributors lose confidence in the fund if it is continually making mistakes, and are irritated beyond measure by errors in billing."

RAILROADS NOT TO REDUCE RATES ON EXPORT GRAIN

Executives of Lines Said to Have Drafted Unfavorable Reply to Suggestion of President Coolidge.

ACTION INTENDED AS RELIEF FOR FARMERS

Conclusion Reached That Lowering Freight Would Not Create Increased Market for Wheat in Europe.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Presidents and other executives of every grain or coal hauling railroad in the country have drafted what is unofficially reported to be an unfavorable reply to President Coolidge's recent proposal for revision of rail freight rates on shipments of those two commodities which were destined for export.

A committee of the presidents has been named to submit the drafted reply to the President at Washington by Thursday, or earlier if they can be received at the White House.

Conclusions of Rail Chiefs.
While the contents of the draft are withheld to await the wishes of President Coolidge in regard to publication, several of the executives who helped draw it up said it was based on a conviction that lowering rates on grain for export would not create an increased market for wheat in Europe, and therefore former out of the slough of overwould not help lift the American production.

The rail executives were chary about revealing their attitude toward the President's reported proposal that freight rates on coal for export be increased to more nearly the level of rates on coal for home consumption. When the conference opened, however, it was generally agreed that the traffic vice presidents of the highest Eastern roads had stated the case in session a week ago, when they declared that coal freight rates had been as nearly equalized as was plausible.

Aim of Suggestions.
The President's suggestions, made to Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, during a recent interview at the White House, were believed to have been aimed at stimulation of the foreign grain trade to the benefit of the wheat farmer. Elimination of wide differentials on coal rates was presumed to have been intended as a check on the foreign demand for American fuel, which would result in a more bountiful supply for local consumers.

Rea called the conference yesterday, which was by invitation to individual roads and not an official session of any of the recognized national railway associations. Fifty executives were in attendance, most of them from roads east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river. Far Western and Southern roads were represented by group chiefs of the Association of Railway Executives.

Court, in Effort to Prevent Divorce, Obliges Wife to Stay Home Account of Expenditures.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The first "reconciliation" agreement ever signed in Cook County courts has been executed by Fred C. Hansen and wife, Margaret, before Superior Judge Sabath. Mrs. Hansen had sued for separate maintenance, but in the interest of their four children, the judge prevailed upon them to sign an agreement stipulating that they would refrain from a legal separation until Feb. 1, 1924, meantime, attempting to effect a genuine reconciliation. The wife, among other things, is obligated to "furnish true and correct accounts of all moneys expended by her," and to "remain at home or be in the company of her husband and family each and every evening and night henceforth."

The husband is bound by his pledge to be diligent in his work, pay over the total sum of his net earnings, to refrain from excessive indulgence in intoxicating liquors and be at all times "sober, amiable and congenial," and to remain at home every night.

Mothers know a dose of
DR. CALDWELL'S
SYRUP PEPSIN
Will keep them fit

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. Everett E. Hunt of Belzoni, Okla., who has three children and never any sickness, and Mrs. F. B. Kuklenski of Prosser, Wash., always give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative," and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are physics that never should be given to children—calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a coal-tar drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which concentrate the blood and dry up the saliva. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeling by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Syrup Pepsin.

MOTHER OF MRS. STOKES TELLS OF FAMILY LIFE

Process Servers Seek Three Witnesses for Further Cross-Examination.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Process servers today searched for three witnesses wanted for further cross-examination at resumption of the Stokes divorce trial tomorrow.

A frail little woman, gray, calm and unafraid, took the witness stand yesterday at the trial to protect her daughter's name. She was Mrs. A. S. Miller of Denver, mother of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, and she, too, insisted that the charges brought by W. E. D. Stokes to divorce his wife were utterly groundless.

In great detail family life, and particularly about her daughter, she said her daughter's friendship with Edgar T. Wallace, mining engineer, now of San Francisco, the principal correspondent, was casual.

Mrs. Miller was minutely cross-examined by Max D. Steuer, chief of counsel for Stokes, but defeated his attempt to asperse her testimony by frankly admitting that her recollections of 19 and 17 years ago were somewhat hazy.

The proceedings were shortened because of the death of the father of one of the jurors.

Tells of Meeting Wallace.

Mrs. Stokes was a daughter of a former marriage, Mrs. Miller testified. Her father, Mr. Elwell, prominent in Chicago, died in 1889, when the defendant was less than 2 years old. Four years later the mother was married to A. S. Miller, a pioneer in building up Denver. There were two children by each marriage, Helen and Beatrice Elwell and Victor and Marcella Miller.

Helen was educated at the National Park Seminary in Washington and traveled in Europe with a maiden aunt and her sister, Beatrice. In 1904 she made her debut in Denver. So far as Mrs. Miller recalled, her daughter was not in Bunton, Mo., in 1904. Mrs. Miller said she had never heard of Bunton until this trial.

Mrs. Miller recalled that her daughter first met Wallace in San Francisco in 1904, being introduced by Senator Key Pittman, brother-in-law of Humboldt Gates, the man Mr. Wallace said had introduced him to Miss Elwell.

"He saw him quite often," said. On the beach in San Francisco she herself took the snapshot of which so much has been made by the plaintiff. The picture shows her daughter with Wallace on the sands.

Later, Mrs. Miller said, "Mr. Wallace called on them in Denver, twice, as she recalled it. In Denver—and not in New York, as Mr. Wallace had testified—he lent her daughter a diamond ring.

"He showed us a ring he had purchased, I believe, as a wedding present," she said. "At any rate he had purchased it for a gift. Daughter said, 'Let me wear it.' He passed it to her and she wore it."

Impression of a Doting Mother.

Steuer pressed for a fuller explanation and Mrs. Miller said: "It was the impression of a doting mother that Mr. Wallace wanted to marry my daughter."

"Was your doting mother's impression formed in San Francisco or in Denver?"

"My daughter playfully borrowed the ring to wear. I don't know where I got the impression. It sort of dawned upon me."

"But Wallace didn't get back the ring from 1904 until 1909, did he?"

"He knew he could get it when he wanted it. She had lots of rings and lots of diamonds. I always gave her a diamond on her birthday."

In 1908 or 1909, Mrs. Miller said, she and her daughter again met Wallace in the Waldorf-Astoria. She did not recall seeing him more than once. He never called and never took Helen out.

In the late autumn of 1910, the daughter came to New York to complete her musical education. She went to live with Dr. and Mrs. Hendrick of Denver at the Ansonia. The next thing Mrs. Miller knew, her daughter had eloped with Stokes.

"Did you make any objection to the match?" Untermyer asked. But Steuer's objection to the question was sustained.

Neither counsel seems to want to examine Charles C. Wharton, Assistant State's Attorney at Chicago, where Stokes and others are under indictment of charges of conspiracy to defame the name and reputation of Mrs. Stokes. Day after day under subpoena, so he cannot leave. Wharton sits outside the courtroom door with a bulging briefcase and a forlorn look.

SEVERAL BROKERS' FIRMS HERE FACE LOSS OF LICENSES

Deputy Finance Commissioner Confers With Manager of the St. Louis Better Business Bureau.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 31.—A conference on the operations of several companies in St. Louis, which are believed to be placing more emphasis on stock selling than upon business promotion, was held here last night between Deputy Finance Commissioner Bernard T. Hurwitz, in charge of enforcement of the "blue sky" law, and H. W. Riehl, manager of the Better Business Bureau of St. Louis.

Revocation of the stock selling permits of several companies in St. Louis probably will result from the investigations now being conducted by the department and Better Business Bureau, Hurwitz said today.

Riehl and Hurwitz also discussed plans to place before the grand jury at St. Louis the affairs of R. W. Adams & Co., defunct stock and bond concern, which formerly was operating in the Tower Building, 604 Olive street. This concern was forced into receivership by Finance Commissioner Millepaugh. Investigation of its accounts have indicated a probable loss of $60,000 to clients who bought stock on the installment plan.

Not One Purchaser Got Stock.

Investigation of the Adams company failed to show a single delivery of stock to a purchaser, Hurwitz said. R. W. Adams, who operated the company, has been missing since the day after attorneys for the receiver took charge of the office, last August.

Last July the Finance Department revoked the stock-selling permits of 12 companies in Missouri, among them about 30 St. Louis concerns. The revocations of permits were based either on failure to file a financial statement, as required by law, filing of an unsatisfactory statement, or for other causes under the "blue sky" law. In some instances the companies have complied with the law and the permits have been reinstated, but the remainder still are prohibited from selling stock, Hurwitz said.

St. Louis Concern Loses License.

The dealer's registration or the Municipal Investment Co., a brokerage concern in the Arcade Building, St. Louis, B. D. Buckley, manager, was revoked yesterday by Deputy Commissioner Hurwitz, for violation of the State securities act.

The direct cause was the company's resumption of stock selling while under suspension and investigation.

The company was cited Aug. 27 to show cause why its permit should not be revoked, for selling stock of the United Royalties, Inc., which had been disapproved by the State authorities, and the National Royalties Co., for which approval had never been sought.

The citation acted as a suspension, pending a hearing and final action. A hearing was held but decision was withheld. The present action is based on information that, in disregard of the suspension, the sale of stock of the two companies has been resumed.

The proceedings against the company grew out of an investigation by the Better Business Bureau of St. Louis, in co-operation with the State authorities.

Virtually a Bucket Shop.

In issuing the citation, Deputy Hurwitz informed the concern that, by reason of frequent conversions, a virtual bucket shop was constituted and it was notified to answer these further charges at the hearing.

The National Royalties Co. was organized in Texas on a declaration of trust, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, of a par value of $1 a share, to deal in oil royalties. In a prospectus it called to be paying dividends of 3 per cent a month and intimated that these might be increased to 4 or 5 per cent.

Fault was found by the Finance Department with a qualifying statement in small type: "The information contained herein has been obtained from sources we consider entirely trustworthy and reliable. While we do not guarantee it, we believe it to be absolutely correct."

Prisoners Cause to Fast.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—The hunger strike in the jails is rapidly coming to an end. It is officially announced that 3200 prisoners have ceased to fast in the last five days.

East St. Louis Negro's Loot Valued at $1200.
Eugene McBride, 25 years old, negro, of 234 North Third street, East St. Louis, yesterday confessed to robbing 10 East St. Louis residents within the last two months, according to the police. Warrants charging burglary and larceny have been issued against him. Articles of clothing, jewelry and money taken in burglaries which McBride has admitted are said to be valued at $1200. He was arrested last week in a St. Louis pawn shop.

Members of several of the families whose homes were robbed reported feeling ill the day after the robberies and some said they overslept. They told police they believed they had been drugged.

GENERAL EDUCATION PROBLEM SERIOUS, HADLEY DECLARES

U. S. Has 20,000,000 Who Cannot Read, Write or Speak English Correctly, He Says.
"The problem of general education which confronts us is a serious one," Chancellor Hadley of Washington University declared yesterday in an address before the Electrical Board of Trade at the Hotel Statler.

"The magnitude of the problem," he continued, "can be realized when the fact is recalled that there are in our country 20,000,000 persons who cannot read, write, or speak the English language correctly. Back of all development must be the education, training and disciplining of the minds of our young people. If civilization is to endure and progress."

Chancellor Hadley introduced his remarks on general education by a short talk on electrical education and progress. He characterized the present as the "age of electricity" and added that if electricity were removed from our lives, civilization would revert to the standard of 20 centuries ago.

THE STORY OF THE BIBLE
"The Spiritual Story of Mankind"
by HENDRIK VAN LOON

THIS is not a rewriting of the Bible, an interpretation or a modern version of the Bible. Having read all the modern Bibles and the almost endless Children's Bibles of the last thirty years, and feeling that none of them adequately meets the needs of his own boys, or the spiritual craving which he has sensed for years among men and women, Mr. Van Loon, with great humbleness and deepest sincerity has told the stories of the Old Testament and the life of Jesus as he sees them, that the lives of all of us may be more full of understanding, of tolerance and of love. THE STORY OF THE BIBLE is a work unbiassed by religious prejudices of any kind, a story told in language of beautiful simplicity. If you know the Bible it will add beauty to its meaning; if you are unfamiliar with the Bible it will impel an interest in that Book.

Laymen and churchmen have given enthusiastic welcome to this great work. Throughout the country, Sunday school classes and Bible classes are using the book as a text, and readings from it and discussions are already being prominently featured by the leading women's clubs of America.

From what evidence we have been able to collect THE STORY OF THE BIBLE has enjoyed the largest advance sale of any non-fiction work published in this country. Brentano's of New York, Chicago and Washington have said that their first order is larger than any they have placed, fiction or non-fiction, in many years.

Kabby and Flanagan Near K O At Hands of Dundee and Curtin; Mitchell Lasts Less Than Round

Over 6500 Persons See Five Exciting Contests, as Boxing Game Comes Back at the Coliseum With New Fighters, Promoter and Referee — Three Real Stars on Exhibition.

By John E. Wray.
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

New fighters, new promoters and a new referee lured 6633 fans, representing sale receipts of $13,212 to the Coliseum last night to view the comeback of the boxing game here. The transfusion of new blood in all departments brought the old pastime up from a sick bed to a point where, this morning, it appeared able to throw away its crutches and again move along on its own.

This was largely due to the fighters themselves who, in five bouts, gave one the most varied and interesting entertainments seen here in years. The net result of the buffetings was one knockout in the first round, one technical knockout (due to a dislocated wrist) and two boys badly beaten and near to knockouts.

There was not a dull moment in the three-hour program and fists were wielded with a vim that at times had the crowd whooping. For once fans felt the building feeling that they had not had their pockets picked—or something akin to that.

Local Boxers Beaten.
It was a bad evening for our local pride. This morning found both Kubby Kabakoff and Patsy Flanagan boy sore and head sore. Neither was able to see clearly out of one eye, owing to terrific lacerations administered them by Mike Dundee and John Curtin, respectively.

Mike Mitchell, another St. Louis product, hit the canvas for the fourth time and stayed down the last time, in the opening stanza of his bout with Babe Barron of Chicago; while two other St. Louisans, who fought each other, broke even. The principals made the strongest impression on the crowd were Johnny Curtin, Mike Dundee and the swarthy-skinned Ernie Guzman, all of whom "had the goods."

The luck of the draw sent Kabakoff and Dundee into the final event of the card. The crowd, keyed up by the excitement of the Flanagan-Curtin bout which had immediately preceded the main event, was roaring for Mike to finish Kabby before the first round was half over. That was because Kabakoff had run into one of Dundee's slashing side-arm swipes, and had been drilled by the heavy right hand of Dundee to his feet crestfallen and chastened, and proceeded to hide his chin behind his left shoulder for the rest of the fight.

Initiative having thus been knocked out of him, he did not at any time subsequently take the lead from Dundee, who throughout swarmed all over Kabakoff, hitting him lightning with both fists. Mike is a broad-shouldered, catlike Italian of great power and real speed.

Flanagan, Handicapped by Injured Eye, Takes Severe Beating but Avoids Kayo

Patsy Flanagan agreeably surprised the crowd by his willingness. Patsy, must be said, entered the ring with a handicap. Both eyes, just under the eyebrow, were gauged and painted white so that Curtin might not be able to identify the injured one—Patsy having suffered the misfortune of a split eyelid in training.

But Curtin, who waded in from the first going, a steady-eyed Nemesis, pasting and forcing his foe with never a stop, uncovered the wound two rounds and had it bleeding from that time on.

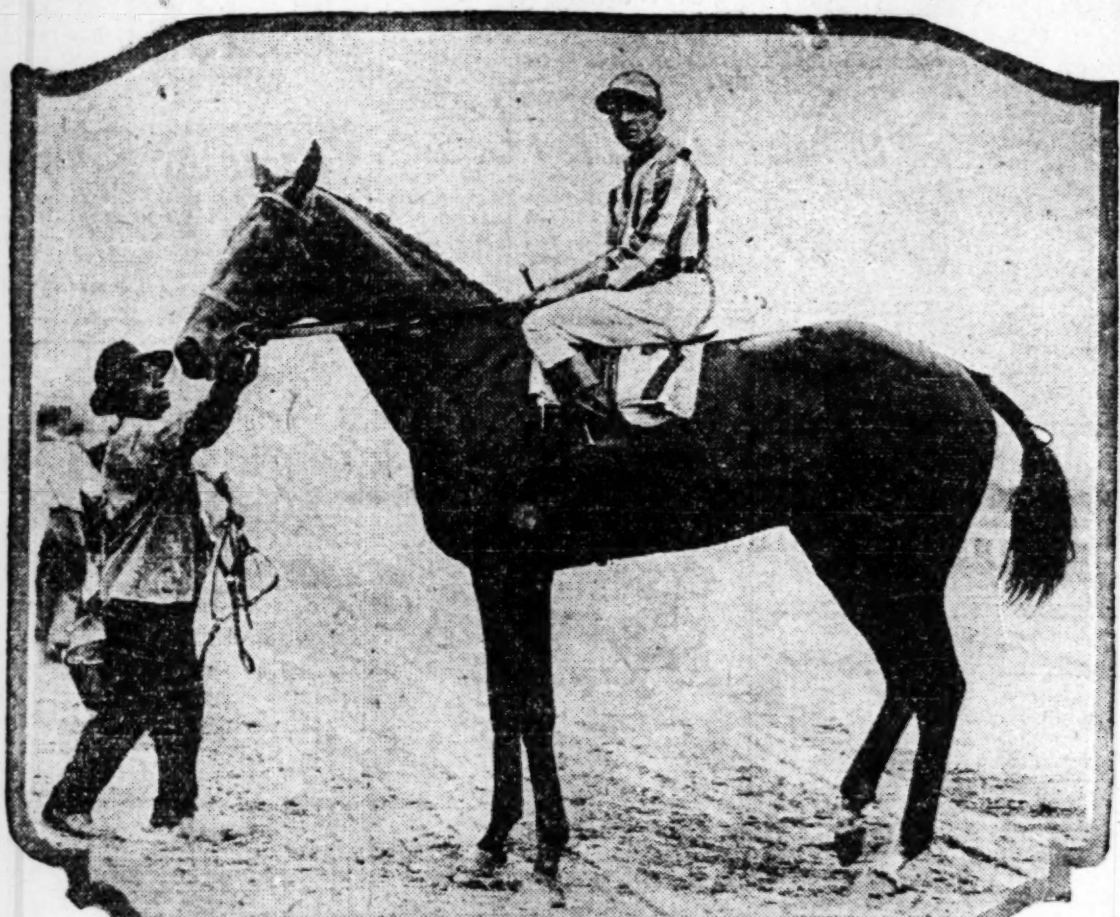

Patsy gave the finest exhibition of cool, defensive boxing that has been seen here since Jimmy Wilde gave his memorable exhibition in this country. Without "grabbing" unduly, Flanagan, when crowded into a corner showed an amazing ability to stab off his foe and to get away from trouble. He also landed many a counter, but his tough little foe never flinched, but leaned in against them.

Flanagan Lacks Punch.
Patsy's great trouble was that he did not have sufficient weight of metal to his artillery. Curtin was not difficult to hit, but it was impossible to keep him off.

In the fifth round Patsy, half-blind and groggy, was looking around for the gate when the bell rang. The seventh saw Flanagan reeling around the ring, pelted from rope to rope by the little whirlwind in front of him. Patsy's defensive instinct was functioning and that was about all. His manager, Joe Keefe, regarded him anxiously, as the weary Patsy dragged his frame from his chair in the ninth. It was a round that Flanagan will not care to recall. He took a beating such as none but a game boy would stand up under. He reeled into his own corner with his guard almost down, weaving and staggering as Curtin punched him. Curtin, amazed, stepped back as if to let Flanagan step out into the ring center, but Flanagan couldn't stop. He leaned against the ropes. His manager anxiously eyed the time-keeper who a second or two later rang the bell. Referee Sharpe led Patsy to his corner.

The tenth was a desperate fight for the nearly blind boxer to keep his feet. To everyone's surprise at the start, he danced out of his corner and smashed Curtin in the mouth, hitting the New Yorker in, which he had feared. He fought hard for a moment, but the flash ended and it was nip-and-tuck whether the referee would take it without going down for the count. He weathered

Mullen's Next Show to Be Held at Coliseum Tuesday, November 27

Four Horses to Start in Title Race at Latonia

Zev, My Own, Rialto and In Memoriam to Face Bar-rier Saturday.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 31.—Indications today were that a field of four of the country's speediest year-olds would face the barrier in the Latonia championship to be run at Latonia, Ky., on Saturday.

My Own, Admiral Cary T. Grayson's candidate, arrived at the Mill-dale course today, according to word received from Baltimore and Rialto was expected in tomorrow to carry the Greenlee colors in the $50,000 classic.

The Rancocas star, Zev, victor over Papyrus in the International race, will not reach Latonia until Friday.

In Memoriam, Carl Wiedeman's Illinois Derby winner, which is the only hope of Western contestants, was given a mile workout yesterday over a muddy track and pronounced to be in excellent condition. The Westerner is not without supporters, many believing the Eastern cracks will find him a hard horse to trim over the distance of a mile and six furlongs.

The track is heavy as a result of recent rains, but with fair weather promised and a small army of men at work continuously with mops and harrows, it was virtually assured that the oval would be in condition for the big race.

Schaefer Defeats Horemans Though Averaging But 26

18.2 Title Tourney Match Lasts Four Hours With American Winning, 500-451.

By Leased Wire From New York Bureau of Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Welker Cochran won his opening match in the international 18.2 ballkline championship tournament here yesterday. He defeated Roger Conti, the Frenchman, in the matinee session, 500 points to 457. The American's average was 26 flat, and his best runs 86, 71, 65. Conti averaged 18-25, with runs of 72, 61, 57 and 47.

Throughout the contest Cochran led. He took a leaf from the book of Willie Hoppe, playing cushions freely instead of devoting himself to the more delicate and hazardous balk line. As in the opening session of the tournament, the weird action of the ivory spheres came in for considerable attention. They were far from responsive. When asked after the match what he thought of the conditions, Cochran said: "It's the balls. It is impossible to draw them. No action is twice alike. It prevents close nursing and it compels a more open method than balkline calls for."

The scores:

Cochran (spot ball) 15, 5, 4, 86, 4, 1, 65, 8, 0, 25, 40, 0, 2, 4, 34, 0, 23, 11, 71, 13, 1, 59, 12, 13. Total 500 points. Average 26. High runs 86, 71, 65.

Conti (white ball) 1, 32, 1, 41, 4, 0, 6, 57, 3, 3, 11, 72, 3, 0, 1, 6, 47, 0, 13, 44, 19, 9, 61, 23. Total, 457 points. Average 18-25. High runs, 72, 61 and 57.

Referee—Albert G. Guther. Match lasted four hours.

Jack Schaefer outplayed Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, in the night match, 500 to 451. Until near the end Schaefer was in poor stroke.

During this period he trailed behind the man who defeated him so seasonally in the tournament a year ago. When he gained fluency of stroke the young wizard exhibited most of his bag of tricks at the end table method. Schaefer's average was 26 flat, and his best runs 86, 71, 65.

SPECIAL DAILY

By Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The sharp and extensive advance which has occurred in the stock market today was a remarkable response to the unexpectedly favorable earnings reported by the United States Steel Corporation for the third quarter and the unexpected extra dividend declaration. The advance kept on from beginning to end, the volume of business expanding all the time. The buying movement was still unchecked at the close. Final prices were right at the top with net gains of five to six points in such leaders as United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, American Can and Studebaker.

Steel common opened on running sales of 5000 shares from $34 to $35, against Tuesday's close from $34 to $35. The advance was not only short covering but also investment buying which took up offerings around the $3 level and later carried the stock $3 to $5.

There had been some late minute hints that the steel report would be more favorable than looked for. Tuesday's market had not taken them seriously. Never has a short interest been more thoroughly unavailing. On the first rush of covering stocks like Baldwin Locomotive, American Can, Corn Products and Studebaker were carried forward a point and a half to 2 points. As in the case of Steel common, the subsequent reaction was very slight and after the first hour the upward movement was in full swing again. At first it was confined to the more active industrials, in which there was a large short interest. But the later upward swing was much more comprehensive. It took in the rails, the coppers and even some of the oils which had hesitated at the start.

The Studebaker report, showing a net $4,855,075 was rather better than anticipated. The main point was that the third quarter results were nearly 400,000 better than a year ago. As expected, only the regular dividend was declared today.

American Can recovered its 1 1/2 per cent quarterly dividend deduction on the opening sale, then went along with the rest of the leaders.

The upward movement gained momentum as the day went on and the high prices were reached in the final hour. New buying, along with the demand from the short interest, was sufficient to take up all offerings, even after the leaders of the list were up more than five points. Baldwin Locomotive, which had left off Tuesday at 115 1/2, got across 120. Studebaker and American Can were up almost as much. The Livermore movement, laying stress upon the increased buying power of the farmers, influenced the uptick in International Harvester and the buying of the mail order shares—Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward. Oil stocks even joined in the recovery. Pan-American was up three points, and Pacific Oil two. Tobacco Products and banks were a feature in the last hour.

The Bond Market.

Quiet irregularity prevailed in the bond market today. Except in one or two instances the speculative enthusiasm in the stock market found no counterpart in the dealings in bonds. There was the same sustained demand for high-grade investment securities which has prevailed for more than 10 days with particular inquiry for yields of from 5 to 5 1/2 per cent. Liberties were a trifle lower early, but the selling was not so persistent as on Monday.

Among the speculative bonds there were two features. One was the strength in Seaboard Air Line adjustments which were traded in large volume and sold up to 36, against a high for the year of 35. No interest has been paid on this issue since Feb. 1, 1921. While not a fixed charge interest is cumulative at 5 per cent annually and is payable out of surplus net earnings. There was no very great change in other speculative bonds, either rails or industrials. Among the for-

A FORMER DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE AND A POSSIBLE ONE

To left: Judge Alton B. Parker (right), nominated in St. Louis in 1904 and defeated by Theodore Roosevelt, and John W. Davis, former Ambassador to England, who is among those mentioned as possibilities for the 1924 nomination.
—Underwood & Underwood Photograph.

To right: Frank Schweighofer of Stratford, Wis., disappeared five years ago when his name was drawn for military service in the World War. A few days ago he gave himself up to the Federal authorities at Fort Snelling, Minn., declaring he wished to "take his medicine." He says he was hiding on his mother's farm, near Stratford, during the entire period of his disappearance. His nerves were shattered by his loneliness and his unremitting dodging from his acquaintances all that time.

WHAT DOES SOUSA'S TRAP DRUMMER THINK ABOUT?

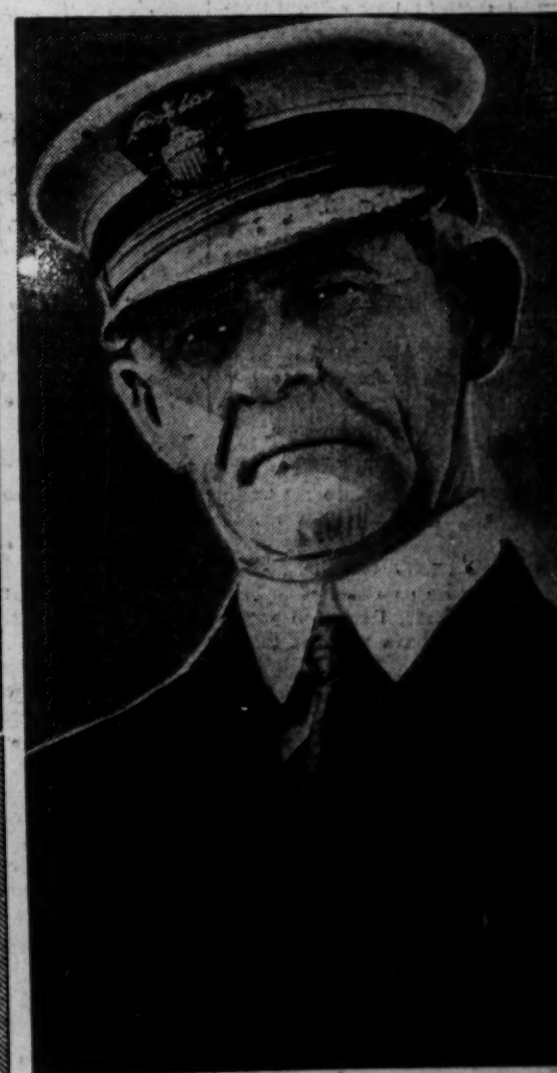

To left: Apparently a great deal, for here are the instruments he is called upon to play in the course of a concert. There are about fifty in all, including bass drum, kettle-drums, snare drums, Indian drums, cymbals, whistles, sleigh bells, tambourines—but see how many you can count for yourself.

It is in the Greenwich Village section, frequented by artists and stage folk. Mrs. Hoyt is an actress of considerable ability and has recently been appearing in a play with William Faversham. Her new stable home is opposite the studio of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, also prominent in society.

of the Post-Dispatch stories about women who are making a name for themselves. Next Wednesday on this page women in the literary field will have the chance to overcome an days of fewer opportunities for women and less confidence in business ability. At the same time there was less competition and Carroll had as her stock in trade a consummate taste, knowledge of business, unremitting zeal and, above all, the social entree, which counts for a little in getting business. She started early in the vaudeville business, which has so amazingly in the last two decades, have brought her in a tide on the crest of the vaudeville prosperity.

Rosalie Stewart
Vaudeville Magnate.
A really romantic career in the history of which another St. Louis girl, Rosalie Stewart, is the star is that of Rosalie Stewart. She went to New York as of about 28 per cent of the vaudeville acts being booked in "Kieth's Southern Time." "Big time" circuits, has been the actor of one of the largest vaudeville circuits and producer and owner of a successful play, "Torch Bearers," which was the American theater here.

Rosalie Stewart is the daughter of Stewart Muckenfuss, who was secretary of the St. Louis National League baseball club when Von Der Ahe was the owner. She was a little black-eyed, haired girl, living at 2936 Madison avenue and attending the T. H. school.

One day her father came with the announcement that a suitation of oculists had told him that he would be totally blind in three months and remain so for years until cataracts were removed from his eyes. The bulk of the Muckenfuss fortune was invested in a small vaudeville theater in Texas, less these were operated, looked black indeed for the family. It was then that be written on the little theater movement.

"Go ahead and write it and I'll produce it," said Miss Stewart. Now She Is Known as Producer.

When written, the play, "The Torch Bearers," elicited nothing but scorn and ridicule from great producers to whom first it was submitted. These same astute managers, after its first night's hit, came clamoring to "buy a piece of the show," and Kelly, the unknown dramatist, was offered thousands of dollars if he would sign contracts permitting the tenders to produce his next play.

But it already had been agreed that for the next five years anything Kelly writes will be produced by Rosalie Stewart. Two plays now in rehearsal are to be presented this season.

The inclusion of the name of Rose Shulsinger in a recent New York newspaper writer's list of "women in New York, under 25, who are earning over $10,000 a year," would seem to indicate quite a sudden and substantial rise in the fortunes of a little girl who was, just a few years ago, a cub reporter on St. Louis newspapers.

Other knowledge we have of her as the force behind one of the most spectacular and persistent advertising campaigns ever conducted on behalf of a movie star, bears out the inference as to Rose Shulsinger's ability and success.

Just now "Little Rose Shulsinger," as her comrades in newspaper work here will always remember her, is associated with the Merchants and Manufacturers Exchange of New York, publicity promoters on a large scale, who control the Grand Central Palace where large industrial exhibitions are held and the Park-Lexington in which New York business and financial interests maintain permanent exhibits.

Knowing some of the intervening steps, Miss Shulsinger's rise has been rapid, though by logical stages. She has earned her way at each successive leap and bound. Began Here as Newspaper Woman.

First as a stranger from New Orleans, newly out of boarding school, she came to St. Louis and became an assistant society editor. From that, a general reporter. From that, editor of a women's page. All within a space of three years. On a summer vacation trip to New York she cast about to see what her prospects might be there. On her first day's round, she has told me, she was offered no less than six newspaper jobs, but none at more than $25 a week. The second day she accepted a more attractive offer with a press agent bureau. She was sent on the road ahead of a Japanese opera company which promptly flopped. Returning to New York, a manager whose star she had interviewed in St. Louis offered her a position on the magazine published by the Universal Film company. In addition to this work she opened a publicity bureau of her own, handling work for a number of the more important stars.

"One night," she tells me, "a girl friend and I were dining at a Chinese restaurant. She was then and is now, one of New York's best-known publicists. We were speculating idly on how much money we would ask if anyone should happen to ask us with a possibility of offering it.

"The next day the Metropolitan Film Co. telephoned me. I thought it was in reference to another matter on which I was dealing with them. When I reached the office the manager, whom I had seen once before, said that they were about to put out a star new to the films and that after looking all over New York for a press representative for her, he had selected me.

"He asked me how much money I would want and quite idly I named the figure about which I had been building air castles the night before. Imagine my amazement when he accepted my terms. I went to work the next day and for six months I was personal representative for this star, after which I was appointed publicity director and advertising manager of all the Metropolitan film output."

Four years of this and an offer of a six months' contract with a French film company, together with other commissions from American companies to be executed abroad.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

More is always gained by pleasing than ever yet was gained by teasing.

—Old Mother Nature.

THESE were unhappy days for Old Mr. Buzzard. Almost every day an aeroplane, which the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows called a man-bird, would fly over the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. As soon as it was out of sight some one would be sure to happen around where Old Mr. Buzzard sat on his tall, dead tree. Sometimes it would be Sammy Jay. "Hello, Old Mr. Buzzard!" Sammy would exclaim. "Did you see that man-bird going over?" My, my, how it can fly! I used to think you were a great flyer, but I don't any more.

"Ah can fly higher than one of those man-birds. Yes, suh, Ah can fly higher than one of those man-birds," Old Mr. Buzzard would hiss angrily.

"Do you really think so?" Sammy would ask sweetly. Then he would laugh and fly away. He would be hardly out of sight when Blacky the Crow would come flying along and appear to be surprised to see Old Mr. Buzzard sitting there. Black would fly down and alight in the next tree.

"I didn't see you out racing that man-bird," Blacky would say. Old Mr. Buzzard would draw himself up and look as dignified as he could. "Ah am not in the racing business, sah," he would grunt.

"I guess it is a good thing you are not," Blacky would reply. "Those man-birds certainly can fly. I wouldn't want to see you beaten in a race, Mr. Buzzard, so I guess you are wise not to try it."

"Ah never claimed to be a fast flyer," Old Mr. Buzzard would grunt. Then he would add, "But Ah reckons Ah can fly higher than one of those man-birds. Yes, suh, Ah reckons Ah can."

"Caw, caw, caw! I reckon you can't!" Blacky would cry. And away he would go.

So it went on day after day. Old Mr. Buzzard was teased and teased and teased until his neighbors made life miserable for him. He knew he was being laughed at and it hurt his pride. He couldn't think of anything else but those hateful man-birds. Always they seemed in a hurry to go somewhere. They never stopped to circle around and around as he so delighted in doing. How he did wish that one would, so that he might go out and show his neighbors that in that at least he was better than the man-bird. Yet all the time down in his heart there was a little doubt. Yes, sir, there was a little doubt. He didn't want to admit it to himself, but he was just a wee bit afraid of those man-birds.

But this didn't keep him from boasting that if ever he had the chance he would show that he could fly higher than one of those hateful man-birds. And soon all the people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows knew of that boast. Then they teased Old Mr. Buzzard more than ever.

The next story: "The Chance Old Mr. Buzzard Didn't Want."

Youthful Phenom-

A remarkable instance of extraordinary precociousness was that of Johann Philipp Barstler, a German scholar, who died in 1740 at the age of nineteen. Barstler is said to have read and written German and French when he was four years old. At five he had mastered Latin and at seven Greek and Hebrew. When he was twelve he wrote a Hebrew dictionary and the following year published a French translation of a book of travel.

HOW ABOUT IT?

COME all ye multi-millionaires
And others not so rich.
And help to keep our orchestra
Kept up to concert pitch.
They need 500,000 bones
To help them make the grade.
So, if you'd hear their dulcet tones
The finders must be paid.

It's money makes the mare go
And also other things;
Inclugs horns and kettle drums
And instruments with strings.
We've got the leader and the band,
We've got the fiddlers, too;
We only need 500 grand
And that is up to you.

TOO TRUE.

There should be no trouble in raising a fund of $500,000 for the Symphony Orchestra when you consider the amount contributed in one night for the Dempsey-Firpo Foundation.

FAIR.

A Fox, seeing a Crow sitting upon the limb of a tree with a piece of meat in its mouth, addressed the Crow as follows: "I know where there is a nice big bunch of ripe grapes. As I do not care for grapes, if you will give me that piece of meat I will show you where they are and we will make an even trade."

The Crow agreeing, the exchange was effected. The grapes, however, proved to be sour and gave the Crow such a stomach ache that it fell an easy prey to the Fox, who had already eaten the meat but was not averse to adding a dish of Crow to his menu.

This week has been set aside as "apple" week. How about a "Yes, we have no bananas" week?

Our professional football team is a pretty fast outfit but it doesn't seem to be getting anywhere in particular.

The hit-and-run is perfectly proper and oft times profitable both in baseball and pugilism. But the hold-and-hit as practiced by Harry Wills and Greb is unethical, unquensberry, unpopular and un-just.

THE PROPER AMMUNITION.

FINEY PETER DUNNE, creator of Mr. Dooley, was dining with a friend at a restaurant. Rice birds were served. The tiny cadavers were brought in on large slices of toast.

"Poor little things!" said the host. "Seems a shame to murder 'em, doesn't it? How do you suppose they ever get enough rice birds to make a meal?"

Dunne turned over an infinitesimal specimen with his fork. "I don't know," he said, "unless they use insect powder!"
